

Standards-Based Grading: An Introduction

Calling all administrators:

Although standards-based grading isn't new, its value has never been greater. This workshop will introduce administrators to standards-based grading and offer ideas to implement it within a school district. Understanding the research behind it and determining the benefits it can provide schools and families will be outlined. A model of an effective standards-based grading system, including detailed report cards, will be provided for participants to analyze and determine best practices.

Finally, participants will have time to collaborate and share ideas on how best to implement this within a district.

Note: A Standards-Based Grading CLC will also be offered for new and experienced standards-based grading districts. Those sessions will be on 10/20/17 and 3/6/18.
