Increasing Literacy with Learning A-Z

Learning A-Z offers resources for differentiated instruction and blended learning. Representative Liz Kaplan will provide an overview of Learning A-Z products and share science and social studies resources available at 28 reading levels that can be digitally assigned to students. Learn about printable eBooks for students' home use if technology is not readily available. Teacher guides, assessments, and activities for student engagement are included and tied to ELA CCLS & the NYS Science Standards.

Morning session: Overview of all products with an emphasis on the popular Reading A-Z/Raz Plus.

Afternoon session: Science A-Z featuring interactive science lessons, high-interest books with STEM challenges and assessments, project-based learning packs, Science in the News, investigation packs, Career Files, debates, and science videos. Primary and intermediate grades.

Collaboration between classroom teachers and librarians provide students with extension activities and research support.

All attendees will receive a FREE 3 month license for all products.

- Objectives:
1. Participants will analyze Learning A-Z products and their correlation to differentiated learning and content area standards.
  2. Participants will evaluate what, if any, products could easily be implemented into classroom instruction
  3. Participants will investigate collaborative opportunities using a Learning A-Z product

Teaching Standards:

2.2; 2.4; 2.5; 2.6
3.4; 3.5
5.1
