Description:

This offering is designed for curriculum coordinators, directors, and instructional coaches. Participants will learn a variety of strategies to engage in successful curriculum coordination. The first session will focus on standards implementation, specifically looking at the Next-Generation Math, ELA, and Science standards, as well as the Social Studies Framework. The next session will center on evaluating curriculum units, with a special emphasis on running a full scale audit of a curriculum. The last session will focus on data-driven instruction and how to implement specific processes and protocols to effectively analyze and action plan on data.

Facilitator(s):

Brendan Keiser

Objectives:

- Understand and implement best practices surrounding standards implementation
- Learn how to conduct a curriculum audit by creating a curriculum audit tool
- Implement data analysis protocols

Audience:
